Heavenly living in a unique church – exclusive penthouse spread over three floors

Sometimes a property comes along that you can hardly call a home, but rather an experience. On Esdonkstraat, in the characteristic village of Eerde, a former church has been transformed—while fully respecting its monumental character—into a truly exceptional residential building. At the top of this impressive church, you will find a spectacular penthouse, divided over three living levels. Here, you quite literally live on a higher level.

The penthouse is fully furnished and meticulously designed by an interior architect. Furniture, lighting, materials, and colors have been carefully coordinated, resulting in a stylish and warm ambiance. Everything is in place—from comfortable seating and dining areas to beds and accessories. Design, comfort, and history blend seamlessly here. The well-thought-out lighting plan enhances the interior both during the day and in the evening, while the herringbone PVC flooring provides a calm and luxurious foundation.

Through the central entrance, the penthouse is easily accessible by elevator or stairs. Upon entering, the impressive sense of space immediately stands out. The height of the former church, the characteristic arches, and the unique window features create an almost cathedral-like atmosphere.

The property is spread across three living levels and offers a generous and versatile layout. There are two full living rooms, allowing for both formal and informal living spaces. The two modern kitchens are sleek in design and equipped with high-quality built-in appliances—ideal for those who enjoy cooking and entertaining, or even for dual occupancy.

The penthouse features three bedrooms and a separate office, perfect for working from home or studying. In addition, there are two luxurious bathrooms finished to a high standard, equipped with spacious walk-in showers and modern washbasins.

A special highlight are the two “outdoor rooms”: unique spaces high within the church, surrounded by impressive church windows. Here you can enjoy spectacular views over Eerde and the surrounding area, while the light is beautifully filtered through stained glass windows. Indoor and outdoor living merge here in a truly unique way.

The top floor forms the absolute highlight. Beneath the original wooden roof structure, you will find an impressive living space where architecture and modern living come together. The exposed wooden beams, the height, and the open layout create an exceptional living experience.

The location on Esdonkstraat combines tranquility and character with excellent accessibility. Eerde is situated between Veghel and Sint-Oedenrode and is known for its green surroundings and village charm. Shops, restaurants, and sports facilities are all nearby. Veghel can be reached within minutes and offers a wide range of amenities. Cities such as Eindhoven and 's-Hertogenbosch are also easily accessible.

Here, you live in a peaceful and green environment, with all amenities within reach.

This penthouse is truly one of a kind. Monumental architecture, modern comfort, and a fully furnished, move-in-ready interior come together in a home that is rarely available.

Living here is not just special — it is almost heavenly.
